- F. 2021-4000 Continued Discussion - Downtown Area Infrastructure Improvements

Michael Park, City Traffic Engineer, led continued discussion of the Downtown Area Infrastructure, summarizing the questions and discussion from November. The first question was the boundary or area of focus, which is not only the downtown area but areas not identified in the Thoroughfare Master Plan or CIP list, and clarified by feedback from the needs and wants discussion. The second question concerned the needs and wants to be improved, which includes a focus on transportation, sidewalk gap program following recent City Council guidance, and focus on needs of safety, age, high volume roads, and failing pavement conditions where no sidewalk exists. The third question was how it should look, with the desire for all roads to meet current standards with wants to be determined later, while minimizing tree removals and maintaining existing neighborhood character.

Mr. Park then presented plans for policy guidance, which include focusing on residential roads, addressing needs, rebuilding to current standards, and as projects occur coordinate various infrastructure improvements preserving existing neighborhood character. He presented a new category of projects "Residential Street Reconstruction Program" targeting historically excepted roadway infrastructure, and an inclusive approach considering age, condition, and current standards based on needs with safety foremost. He then listed plan implementation and funding by the Transportation Sales Tax, adding the new category of projects to the unfunded Infrastructure Improvement List, avoiding waivers to unimproved road policy for development, and coordinating with the comprehensive plan.

Mr. Park opened it up for discussion about staff's approach before moving on. Councilmember Edson stated that she appreciated the presentation, the time put into it, and that it is a roadmap to where the City needs to go, especially with the addition of the new Unimproved Road Policy. Councilmember Shields also expressed gratitude for the presentation and how staff incorporated feedback, especially with preserving trees and neighborhood character. She also stated that bringing in the education component will help the public to see that it is a balancing of priorities that makes sense. The Committee agreed that it is a good roadmap to where the City needs to go. Balancing a lot of priorities and makes sense.

The Committee was in agreement that the considerations of projects are great and that the presentation was very concise. Mr. Park said that the next step is proposing this new program in the CIP, enforcing our Unimproved Road Policy, and creating project lists so that the City Council can evaluate the older infrastructure and failing streets as priority projects among other larger projects in the community. The project lists will be available for future bonds, sales taxes, and project considerations.

7. Roundtable

Councilmember Edson asked if City meetings will be at City Hall or hybrid. Chairman DeMoro mentioned an email sent out from Steve Arbo, City Manager, regarding the issue. Christal Weber, Assistant City Manager, said that March 15 is the beginning of phase three of returning people to the office. The hope is to be to phase four by the middle of April. For City Council meetings the direction is to move to hybrid in March. For Committees it is up to the Chair whether meetings are hybrid or zoom only.

Ms. Weber announced that Chairman DeMoro has moved the date of the April Public Works Committee meeting from April 5 to April 12, with the same start time of 5:00 p.m.
