Why interested: I am interested in improving the quality of development in the City, and in having a voice in development issues. I have a master's degree in city planning and am an attorney, and have a national practice that focuses on updating development codes (such as UDOs and zoning regulations), and have done this kind of work for over 50 communities in 35 states. Some of my clients include Kansas City, Olathe, San Antonio (Texas), Washington DC, and Albuquerque. We are currently working with Cincinnati, Loudoun County Virginia (outside of Washington DC) and Los Angeles. We also assisted Lees Summit with sign regulation amendments that are currently under consideration.

Other participation: I am a member of Longview Chapel Christian Church, and served on the Livable Streets Committee.
