Interest Response: I am interested in serving on the Charter Commission because I care about the structure and governance of our city. As a long-time resident of Lee's Summit and a Certified Financial Planner, I understand the value of long-term thinking, clear frameworks, and responsible oversight. I believe the Charter Commission plays a critical role in making sure our foundational city document remains effective, transparent, and aligned with the needs of our growing and evolving community.

I bring over a decade of experience in strategic planning, financial analysis, and stakeholder communication. My day-to-day work requires thoughtful consideration of complex systems, risk mitigation, and long-range outcomes — qualities I believe are vital when reviewing a city's charter.

This isn't my first engagement with the city — I've lived in Lee's Summit for 12 years, regularly utilize community resources like the Longview Community Center, and make a conscious effort to stay involved and informed. I'm proud to call this city home and would be honored to help guide the review process in a way that reflects the diverse and forward-thinking character of our community.

Other Activities: I regularly lead financial education workshops, provide one-on-one coaching, and help design programs focused on retirement and long-term planning. I'm also involved in the development of financial wellness content that reaches thousands of retirement plan participants across the country. Locally, I stay active by working out at the Longview Community Center five days a week and supporting other Lee's Summit amenities. I've also expressed interest in serving on city commissions.
